

BUDDIES MEET AND GREET EACH OTHER

Second Annual Reunion of 158th Ambulance Corps in L. A.

Ambulance Company 158 Organization held its annual banquet and reunion Saturday night, March 10, at the Clark Hotel, Los Angeles. Miniature pup tents, each with its tent pole and small flag, marked places for fifty. The Ambulance colors of maroon and white were carried out in floral decorations of sweet peas and other appointments. Places were also marked by photographs for Ruth St. Denis, mother of the company, and Ted Shawn, a member of the organization who was en tour and in consequence unable to be present. Miss St. Denis' picture was inscribed thus: "To My Dear Ambulancers—with all happy memories and love greetings—your Ruth St. Denis." On Mr. Shawn's picture was written the words: "I'm with you in spirit." A splendid 5-course dinner was served to the boys and a program followed, also informal talks from many of those present.

The main features of the program were Miss Van Hoes, Miss Nina Garrett and Mrs. J. Roy Busby, all of Denishaw; Miss Van Hoes in several delightful piano solos; Miss Garrett as an interpretive dancer and Mr. Busby as a burlesque and eccentric dancing.

Three of the five officers elected for the coming year are Glendale residents. Farris C. Brown, 217 West Lomita avenue, was unanimously re-elected president of the association. This is his third term as such. Clarence D. Ross, 306 N. Jackson street, was chosen vice-president and John Gay Pixley, 400 West Harvard, sergeant-at-arms.

The 158th was recruited in Los Angeles and vicinity during the months of June and July, 1917. It was composed entirely of enlisted men and numbered 128, including officers. This organization saw a year's hard service in the "zone of the advance," serving both field and camp hospitals, notably in the sectors near Toul. The members of the company were awarded the "Defensive sector bar" for this service.

One member died in France and was buried on the banks of the Meuse, within a few miles of Domremy, the birthplace of Jean de Arc. Another died last year in Utah. The others are scattered far and wide. One member, who came all the way from Seattle just to be with his buddies a few short days was F. C. Bickley, who after the armistice, joined one of the A. E. F. shows, as a female impersonator and gained wide renown throughout France as "Vomiting Vera" in the "Dance of the Garbage Hound." Other members came from San Francisco, Fresno, Santa Barbara and San Diego. The commanding officer, Capt. S. G. Bay, beloved by all members of his organization, who, by the way, is chief of the Medical Inspection Service, U. S. Veterans' Bureau, with headquarters in San Francisco, was present with the four other officers of the company: Major C. G. Whorton of Los Angeles, Capt. C. L. McClish of Los Angeles, Capt. Lawrence J. Butka, of San Gabriel, and Capt. C. E. Alexander of Alhambra.

BERLIN WARNS FRENCH RUHR OFFICERS

BERLIN, March 13.—Whether investigation shows that the French, Belgians or Germans killed the French officer and civilian at Buer, the Berlin press expects that the German inhabitants of the Ruhr will have to suffer for the incident.

The Kreuzzeitung warns Poincaré and Maginot that they "had better look out since they are still pouring oil into the fire."

The Die Zeitung says it has been known for some weeks that the morale of the French troops was relaxing. "Entire regiments have mutinied and had to be exchanged. This development, in the mean time, has gone so far that French officers are falling by the hands of their soldiers."

Napoleon's invasion of Russia was the subject under discussion in the class in history, and the teacher was doing her utmost to make every sentence clear. Referring to his retreat from Moscow she asked, "And then, James, what did the French do?"

"They ran away," was the quick reply.

"Yes, they ran away, James, but that is hardly the correct phrase to use," said the teacher. "Now think and tell me what you should have said."

James was lost in thought for a moment, then his face beamed brightly in the light of a new thought.

"Oh, I know," he cried, "They beat it."

EXECUTIVE BOARD BOY SCOUTS HAS FIRST MEETING

Endorses School Bonds As First Action of the Evening

The executive board of the Boy Scouts of the Verdugo Hills District Council held its first meeting of the year Monday evening at the district scout office, 103 1/2 South Brand boulevard. A. R. Eastman, president of the Council, presided.

A resolution endorsing the coming school bond election was introduced by Mr. Ferry which was unanimously adopted. Following is the resolution:

"Whereas, the genius, success and comfort of modern life is based primarily on the education of man, and

Whereas, it is brought to our attention that the educational facilities of Glendale are inadequate to cope with the increase in population so that the children can receive efficient educational training;

Therefore, be it resolved, that the executive board of the Verdugo Hills District Council, Boy Scouts of America, an organization which cooperates with and supplements home, school and the church, does hereby approve and endorse the school bond election to be held March 15, and urges the parents and adult leaders of its organization to support the educational program of this city.

(Signed) A. R. EASTMAN, President.

In his report to the executive board for the months of January and February, Scout Executive Harold Benner brought out the fact that thirty-eight new boys had joined, that three troops in Glendale and Burbank had been re-organized and a new troop organized under the sponsorship of the Glendale American Legion. According to the report eleven new outstanding men in the district were enlisted to serve as scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters, and troop committeemen. Twenty-five second-class, twelve first-class and twenty-two merit badges were awarded to scouts during this period. Life and star scout badges were awarded to Floyd Craft of Troop No. 2, Glendale. One thousand handbills were delivered for the Tuesday Afternoon Club and a boy scout orchestra was conceived under the inspiration of France Henry. Nine individual visits to troops in this district were made by the scout executive.

The bi-annual conference of scout executives of Region Twelve is to be held at Yosemite May 14-15 inclusive. Scout Executive Benner was given permission to attend this conference.

FLOYD MERCER IS REMEMBERED ON BIRTHDAY

That his strenuous, unselfish and wholehearted work as superintendent of the Christian church Bible school the past three years is appreciated by his fellow workers was evidenced last night when all the members of the workers' cabinet and a few of their relatives made a surprise visit to his home. He was doing some needed work at the church building and knew nothing of the visit until he opened the door to enter the house on his return home at 8 o'clock. He was presented with a gold watch chain as an expression of the love and confidence of his associates in the work. Miss Gertrude Roe made a very neat presentation speech, praising it with some witty anecdotes and he responded with words of thankfulness. Then after the playing of games the birthday cake with a brave array of lighted candles something less than 40 of them was brought in and very cleverly cut by Mr. Mercer, and then refreshments of chocolate and several kinds of cake were served. It was nearly 11 before the guests departed.

THE DIRE FATE OF EXCESSIVE MEAT DIET SHOWN

[By Associated Press] SEATTLE, Wash., March 13.—Rats have been used by Rusty Callow, crew coach at the University of Washington, to teach his pupils the awfulness of eating too much meat and too few vegetables. While straining every nerve to get his crew to the pitch of efficiency for the race with the University of California on the Oakland estuary, April 21, Callow took the rowers to the home economic building. Here were rats with rickets, rats with lumbago and rats with premature senility. And every disorder, solemn scientific assurance was given, was caused by too much animal and too little plant food.

COL. EVERINGTON IS PLEDGED BOND AID

Col. James W. Everington addressed meetings of the Carpenters' local union and of the Electrical Workers' union last evening and both these organizations voted unanimously to support the $500,000 school bond issue in Thursday's election, after the colonel's eloquent plea had been closely listened to. Both organizations went on record as favoring and strongly urging the employment of Glendale workers as far as possible on all Glendale jobs, giving them the preference in every case.

PAUL HOFMAN IS SOUGHT BY HIS PARENTS

It is hoped by Frank J. Hofman and Mrs. Hofman, 3716 12th St., N. E. Brookland, D. C., that their 17-year old son, Paul W. Hofman, Gonzaga graduate, pianist and organist, who disappeared on September 8, 1922, will respond to an appeal made by his father. The appeal reads:

Paul W. Hofman, mother heart-broken. She can't stand it any longer. Drop her a line, tell her you are well and have a warm place to sleep, plenty of good eats. Wire her at once. If you are in trouble your father will help you straighten matters out. All miss you more than can say. Your friends are all anxious about you. Come back. We will forget it. Papa. The missing boy is 17 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches, slender build, smooth face, grayish blue eyes, fair complexion, chestnut hair, long and wavy, wears light gray pants, lavender striped shirt, white tennis shoes, no coat, light check cap, missing from home, 3716 12th St. N. "JUST TONY" CLOSING TONIGHT AT THE GLENDALE

Last night's audience again loudly proclaimed the ever-growing popularity of "Just Tony," the Fox firmament, who closes tonight at the Glendale theater in the western melodrama, "Just Tony," written by Max Brand and directed by Lynn F. Reynolds.

"Just Tony," which is from the story "Alcatraz," the widely read novel by Brand, features the remarkable talents of "Tony," the trained hound which has been Mix's companion in each of his long series of western screen productions. From the first flash to the final flicker, Mix and "Tony" romp carefree through the picture, oblivious of the thousand dangers that beset their path.

In the play Mix, as "Red" Ferris, a wandering cowboy, becomes the only friend that "Tony," the wild desert mustang can boast of. "Tony's" animosity and rancorous resentment of the treatment accorded him by man has led him into many depredations. It is through love of "Red" that "Tony" deserts his destructive career and returns to his former docile habits.

NATIONAL FOREST FIRES COST MANY MILLIONS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—Fires in the national forests of California, during the ten-year period ending 1920, burned over 1,300,000 acres and caused nearly four million dollars damage, according to S. B. Shaw and E. I. Kotok of the San Francisco headquarters of the forest service, in a circular just issued by the department of agriculture.

The report of these forest experts is based on a study of more than 10,000 fires, most of which were man-caused. Data compiled from an exhaustive analysis of fires by causes, sizes, damage, cost, location, season and other relating factors, and the drawing of conclusions as to the best methods of preventing and fighting fires, will prove interesting and helpful to everyone connected with forest protection, not only in California, but elsewhere, especially throughout the west. It contains valuable information as to the various theories and principles that have been tested out both in patrol and actual suppression, leading to a selection of means and methods that have proven most effective.

The circular is replete with statistical data and graphic illustrations pertaining to every phase of the forest fire problem. It may be had free on application to the United States department of agriculture, division of publications, Washington, D. C., requesting Department Circular No. 243, "Forest Fires in California, 1911-1920."

Coleman's pitching material includes Alfred Woodward, who came near signing with the Detroit Tigers, but decided to remain at O. A. C.; Frank Mendenhall, veteran hurler from last year's team; and Charles Newhall, Harold Ridings, Andy Street and Percy Blackstone, from last year's freshmen. Mike Duffy, last year's catcher, is the only receiver listed.

Infielders from last year are Felix Fors, Dick Garber, Glenn Perry and Hilbert Tasso. Three veteran outfielders are Tom Nippy, Chester Noonan and Frank Kramien.

The schedule for the season follows:
April 25-26—Idaho, here.
April 30—Washington State, at Pullman.
May 1—Washington State, at Pullman.
May 3-4—Idaho, at Moscow.
May 11-12—Oregon, at Corvallis.
May 16-17—Washington State, at Corvallis.
May 18-19—Oregon, at Eugene.

2000 VISIT TUESDAY CLUB OPENING DAY

Public Swarms Through Doors of New Home; Furnishings Seen

It was estimated that not less than 2000 citizens visited the new home of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, Monday, to register their admiration and congratulate the officers in the receiving line upon its possession by the club and the community, for it will undoubtedly become a social center for Glendale. The central event of the afternoon was the raising of the beautiful flag presented by Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., upon the club's flagpole by a group of Boy Scouts under the direction of Scoutmaster H. Benjamin Robison, the boys participating being Floyd Kraft, star scout; Arthur Bartol, senior patrol leader; Horace Brown, Robert Eastman and Charles Wyman, all of Troop 2; Glen Cunningham, Charles Bosserman, Robert Ayars and William Bogen of Troop 3.

It was an impressive sight when the flag went up while Bugler Floyd Kraft played, following the cannon salute. The colors which will guard the clubhouse and testify to the patriotism of its members were blessed in an invocation by Rev. Chas. M. Alder and all present united in a salute to Old Glory.

This ceremony was followed by another, the presentation by Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, on behalf of the General Richard Gridley, chapter, D. A. R., of a lovely silk platform flag which was received by the patriotic chairman of the club, Mrs. Lilian Dow, with grateful acknowledgments and the promise to hold it forever in honor and esteem. This flag was placed in a bracket prepared for it on the south side of the stage of the auditorium.

The scouts who took part in the flag raising ceremony were thanked by the president, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, and conducted through the clubhouse as guests of honor, and then given all the punch and wafers they would take by the hostesses of the day, who presided over the tables at which the delicious beverage, the gift of the Sierra Beverage company, was dispensed.

The impressive feature of the afternoon was the universal interest in the clubhouse and the sense of satisfaction and proprietorship in it, as an asset of Glendale, that was continually expressed.

Another feature, equally suggestive along the same line was the fellowship manifested by the flow of tributes with cards of congratulation from other organizations and from business firms of the city. These were laid baskets filled with lovely combinations of jonquils, snap dragons, fleur de lis, sweet peas, stocks, etc., and a basket or two of roses and of carnations. The cards attached bore the congratulations of the Rotary club, Kiwanis club, Glendale Elks' club, chamber of commerce. A basket of pure white Easter lilies was from the College Women's club. Others were from Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pendroy, Newton Electric company, Edwards & Wilkey company, Glendale Creamery company, Alfred Priest, Kiefer & Eyerick.

As a reception it was most enjoyable because after the guests had greeted the officers and made the tour of the spacious rooms, they could find rest in the beautiful auditorium where Mrs. Emma Hopkins, the harpist, and the other members of the Arion quartet, seated upon the stage, rendered a charming program throughout the afternoon.

OREGON AGGIES IN FAST GAME

By Associated Press CORVALLIS, Ore., March 12.—Games with fast amateur teams of the Willamette valley before the opening of the conference schedule are to supplement the early training of the Oregon Agricultural College baseball team, according to an announcement by Ralph Coleman, Portland Pacific Coast league pitcher, who is coaching the Aggies' nine.

Coleman's pitching material includes Alfred Woodward, who came near signing with the Detroit Tigers, but decided to remain at O. A. C.; Frank Mendenhall, veteran hurler from last year's team; and Charles Newhall, Harold Ridings, Andy Street and Percy Blackstone, from last year's freshmen. Mike Duffy, last year's catcher, is the only receiver listed.

Ossip Gabrilowitch once related a story about a well-known pianist's pupil, who was said to have always chosen compositions in rapid style for her study numbers. "Madam," said the artist one day in exasperation, "why do you not try an andante? It would disclose your phrasing better."

"Oh," said the protegee, "it's because your lessons are so expensive. I can't afford to play slow music."

SURF RIDING IN T. D. L. SHOW, "THE WHITE FLOWER"

Surf-riding and outrigger-canoeing, favorite sports of the tropics, are no longer mysteries to Betty Compton, the petite Paramount star who went to Hawaii for the purpose of filming her latest picture "The White Flower," which is due for a three days' showing at the T. D. and L. theater beginning today.

On the famous beach at Waikiki, under the tutelage of native masters of these fine arts, Miss Compton learned to ride the waves with the best of them.

Of the two, surf-riding proved to be much more difficult. In the story of "The White Flower" the star plays the role of a half-caste girl, who is a complete mistress of these sea sports. So Miss Compton promptly secured an instructor and devoted all spare time to the pleasurable task of learning just how it is done.

Edmund Lowe, who plays the leading masculine role in this Paramount picture, was an enthusiastic pupil of the native instructors, although his role did not demand that he ride the combers before the camera.

GIRL SCOUTS PARTY

Troop No. 3 of Glendale Girl Scouts had a party the last of the week at the home of Beatrice Case, 343 North Maryland. In the absence of the Scoutmistress, Miss Jackson, the captain, Mrs. R. C. Horner, had charge. Twenty-three girls were present.

SUBURBAN TRACT LOTS MOVE VERY FAST

Sixty-one of Heights
Change Hands in Two Weeks

Suburban Heights, one of the most attractive and highest class subdivisions in the rapidly-growing northwest, is commanding the attention of hundreds of home-seekers and property buyers in this section of the country. During the two weeks that this tract has been on the market a total of 61 lots has been sold, this demonstrating conclusively that the values are in every lot in the tract. Property seekers are no longer buying on the say-so of the real estate agent—they are looking for actual value, a value that they can convert into cash if the necessity arises. This fact speaks in the most conclusive way as to the values to be found in Suburban Heights.

This super-tract lies between Tenth street on the north and Kenning road on the south—right in the middle of the high-class section. On the east of the tract is Winchester avenue, while on the west is Irving, with Western, the leading north and south street in that locality, cutting right through the center of the tract.

The tract lies just one long block from the Pacific Electric line, while the proposed bus line to the northwest section will run along Tenth street, the northern boundary of this tract. This bus will give 10-minute service right to the heart of Glendale. The Grand View grammar school is located just two blocks from the tract. This is a tract in connection with which the home owner may have all the allurements of the country with the advantages of the city.

The view obtainable from this tract cannot be surpassed. To the north are the wonderful green Verdugo hills, which are known all over California, while to the south stretches one of the most wonderful panoramas of the San Fernando valley that could be imagined. The breezes throughout the summer at any point of the tract are cool and invigorating, while through the winter the tract is sheltered from the cold north winds by the Verdugo mountains. Everything combines to make this one of the most wonderful home locations found anywhere in Southern California, which means the world.

Lots in this tract are selling for $1,250 to $2,750, and there are 150 lots in the tract. All of the improvements that go to make up a high-class tract are included in the prices asked, these comprising street work, public utilities, etc. Nothing is lacking. The restrictions in this tract are high, being from $3,500 to $5,000.

"Business is very good," said Mr. Blackmore, vice-president and general manager of the Suburban Realty Co., Inc., 508 South Brand boulevard, which concern owns this tract. "In fact, it would be hard for it to be better. And things have been going especially well in connection with our tract, Suburban Heights. It is truly remarkable the way the people are realizing the value we are offering in those lots. They seem to grasp the idea the minute they see the tract. There is no doubt in their minds as to the future increase in value of these lots."

PALESTINE HAS COMPLETE CENSUS

By Associated Press
JERUSALEM, March 13.—Palestine has a total population of 757,182, according to the figures of the census of three months ago. This figure equals approximately the population of the city of Boston as given by the official count in 1920. Ten per cent of the people in Palestine are given as Christians; 11 per cent as Jews, and 79 per cent as Mohammedans. The figures for Christians and Jews are regarded here as about correct, but there was such strong opposition to the census on the part of the Mohammedans that their number probably is considerably underestimated.

In two cities only is there a preponderant Jewish population, Jerusalem and Tiberias. In the former, out of a total of 62,000, 34,000 are descended from Abraham and the balance are about equally divided between the followers of Jesus and the prophet of Mecca.

It is interesting to note that Bethlehem is the only town in the land in which Christians predominate. Here there are 5,338 of this faith, 818 Mohammedans and two Jews. Nazareth has a population of 7,424, of which roughly two-thirds are Christian, one-third Moslem, and only 53 Jews. The principal seaport, Jaffa, has about 47,000 people, of whom there are 20,000 each of Jews and Mohammedans, and about 7,000 Christians. The other large centers of population are very largely Mohammedan.

The Palestine Weekly, a Zionist organ, claims that, according to Roman figures, this country has supported a population of 7,000,000, but when one considers that the area of Palestine is about equal to that of Vermont and that it has about an equal amount of arable land, one questions seriously whether, with the highest development of her natural resources, it will be possible for Palestine ever to support a greatly augmented population. Vermont, in 1920, counted 352,428 people within the state.

In this world the hardest knocks we get are delivered by our supposed friends.

FIRST GLIMPSE OF ELEVATORS

By Associated Press
TUCSON, Ariz., March 13.—Tucked away in the hills, near Twin Buttes, 30 miles from Tucson, there is a thriving little community of farmers numbering three families. A rural school has been established there for the 17 children of these families.

During a talk recently by the teacher, mention was made of the postal card. The remark was met with open-eyed curiosity. Questioning revealed the fact that a postal card had never entered their world. Further conversation led to a modern contraption called the elevator. This was too much. These bucolic mountain children could not grasp the idea of an entire room being moved up and down, with people in it.

The result was a personally conducted excursion to Tucson, by the upper grades of the school, involving seven children in all, under the guidance of the teacher. The children were taken to the University of Arizona on a street car, then taken through the museum, after which they were shown a postal card. Then came the supreme climax and thrill of the tour—a dizzy ride in a real elevator!

This ended their pilgrimage to the city of strange sights, and the children were safely returned to their mountain home with memories that will gladden their young hearts for years to come.

TREE MONARCH TWICE CROWNED

By Associated Press
MOSCOW, Idaho, March 13.—A new monarch was recently crowned in the white pine forest kingdom of central Idaho. The tree, measuring seven feet, four inches in diameter, breast high, replaces the former ruler of the white pine kingdom, which recently abdicated before the advances of the Potlatch Lumber company and was assassinated into 29,800 feet of timber.

Although lightning had previously "crowned" the new monarch in another sense of the word, officials of the United States Department of Agriculture, recently granted an audience by his leafy majesty, believe that, when assassinated, he will better the footage record of his predecessor.

BATTLES TIDAL WAVES, STORMS

By Associated Press
OAKLAND, Cal., March 13.—The three-masted schooner, Raita, is discharging 700 tons of copra here after a stormy voyage of 78 days from Tahiti. After leaving the South Sea port of Papeete, Tahiti, the Raita was assailed by heavy gales and when off the Hawaiian Islands she was in the tidal waves that caused heavy damage at Hilo bay. The schooner lost part of her running gear and her masts were carried away. Captain Z. Olson said it took two men to handle the wheel.

The young lover had at last screwed up his courage and was resolved to interview his sweetheart's father without delay. "Darling," he said to her, "I am going to ask him this very minute."

"My brave boy!" she murmured in reply, as he went off. The girl waited in suspense and at last he returned looking very thoughtful. "It is good news?" she asked eagerly.

"I don't know," was the reply. "John, what do you mean?" "I don't know whether he said 'Take her my boy,' or 'Take care, my boy!'"

LORD CARNARVON OPENS TUT-ANKH-AMEN'S TOMB

Lord Carnarvon, discoverer of the tomb of King Tut-Ankh-Amen, in the Valley of the Kings, and his daughter, escorted by the Nubid of Luxor, shown leaving by automobile from Luxor for the famous treasure tomb, which has just been opened. JINX STRANGLER BY ORANGE MEN

By Associated Press
SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., March 13.—San Bernardino has lost faith in all the old omens of bad luck. The Thirteenth National Orange Show has just closed and officials declare it was the most successful ever held.

In past citrus exhibitions every precaution was taken to avoid all unlucky signs and symbols that sometimes are associated with dates, figures, black cats, and so forth. But it seemed useless, as something always came along unexpectedly to mar the event.

This year the annual exposition started on a Friday afternoon and the directors purposely walked under all the ladders being used to arrange the displays, and it is said a mirror was broken on a box of oranges to "christen" the opening day. And all went well.

The orange shows of the past have always been a harbinger of wet, sloppy weather, despite rabbits feet worn by boosters of the show.

This year Old Sol smiled his best the entire week of the show, and the high winds usually prevalent at this time of the year failed to put in an appearance.

Some odd prizes were awarded at this year's exposition. One man won a valuable prize for having the homeliest face, and another prize was given to a group of men for being the fattest, carried in any one automobile to enter the show grounds.

Nearly 300,000 persons visited the orange show this winter.

You can help to make sick and crippled children well and strong by sending your discarded suits, overcoats, hats, shoes, underwear, ties, collars, etc., to the Children's Hospital Salvage Department, 712 Maple avenue, Los Angeles.

Your discarded garments are needed to help furnish a stock for a special pre-Easter sale of men's clothing which will be held at the Children's Hospital Salvage sales-room on Monday, March 19.

Everything can be sold! Donations of newspapers, magazines, tinfol, toys, rugs, dishes, garments of all kinds, hats, shoes, etc., for men, women and children, jewelry (broken and whole), pictures, furniture, art goods, and books will be gratefully received.

Everything that is donated is the equivalent of renewed health and happiness for hundreds of sick and crippled children of our own community.

CATALINA ISLAND TO HOLD SUN GAZE
Monday, September 10, will be a red letter day at Catalina Island, or perhaps we ought to say, a black letter day, as upon that date a total eclipse of the sun will be visible for a period of two minutes, starting at 12:54 p. m.

Astronomers, observers, educators and the general public are very keenly interested, because this is probably the only chance in the lifetime of those now upon the earth to witness this phenomenon. Recognizing the value of the observations which can be made at that time for the benefit of scientists and laymen alike, Wm. W. W. Jr., owner of Catalina Island, has arranged to finance an expedition from Yerkes Observatory at Lake Geneva, Washington, (where Mr. W. W. Jr. has a summer home) to Catalina.

It is stated that Catalina will be the best spot on the map from which to view the eclipse. It will be visible only in Southern California and old Sol will be 100 per cent eclipsed from the viewpoint of Catalina Island only.

A decided step forward in cesspool construction, is that manufactured by the Circular Concrete Manufacturing Co., at San Fernando road and Doran street. Its simplicity of construction, and practical advantages are beyond question. This concrete cesspool does not give as much seepage as the older ones constructed of brick. The concrete blocks are uniformly and scientifically made, in order to give as much seepage as the earth around the pool can at any time absorb. There are twenty 2 1/2-inch holes to two feet of surface, as compared to six or nine which has heretofore been offered to the public. The new construction is shown at 611 East Broadway, Glendale.

TOOK LIFE IN TWO-BIT THEFT

By Associated Press
VICTORIA, B. C., March 13.—The killing of Lyon Lorenz, bank clerk, 20 years old, was cleared up by confessions of Donald Smith, 17, and Herbert Burton, 15, police ascertained here today.

According to the alleged confessions, Smith shot Lorenz dead as the bank clerk was handing over 25 cents in a holdup.

WOMEN MAY BE SEA CAPTAINS

By Associated Press
LONDON, March 13.—Women are eligible for sea captains' certificates, is the ruling of the board of trade in reply to a question on the subject from the Imperial Merchant Service Guild. The board says it would not refuse to examine a candidate for a certificate of competency on the ground of sex, if the conditions as to service and testimonials, laid down in their regulations, were complied with.

The question arose through the case of a Miss Drummond, who recently went to sea as an engineer, and the guild wished to have it made clear if women could go further in the profession.

MICHIGANDERS CALLED AGAIN

The mammoth all-Southern California picnic under the auspices of the Michigan association will be held as usual on Saturday, March 17, in Sycamore Grove.

The badges will be as green as the Emerald Isle and the coffee hot and strong as in the old days.

Dr. M. R. Parmelee will preside as president, and will offer a fine clean program. Pass the news along to others.

AMERICAN JEWS GIVE EUROPE MONEY

By Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 13.—More than $5,700,000 has been contributed by American Jews toward non-sectarian relief in Russia, and a further $3,300,000, mostly for their own people, through the American Relief Administration during the year 1922, according to a report of the American Jewish Joint Distribution committee.

The report was made by Felix M. Warburg, James N. Rosenberg and Lewis L. Strauss, the three representatives of the committee who, in August, 1921, concluded the agreement on the combined work in Russia with Secretary Hoover, chairman of the American Relief Administration.

About $4,000,000 of the $5,700,000 was directly contributed toward Russian relief from the organization's own fund, while the remainder was made up of the 25% deducted by the American Relief Administration for general relief from approximately $7,000,000 in food packages sent by American Jews to Russia.

Most of the funds expended by the American Jewish Joint Distribution committee, according to the report, are now being used for construction rather than for relief, such as furnishing farmers with feed, cattle and implements, and providing capital to numerous small co-operative loan banks.

The total amount contributed by the committee from its own funds during the past year for relief work in Russia was $7,500,000.

THREE MILLION FEET OF TIMBER GIVEN AWAY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—Nearly three million board feet of timber from the national forests of California, valued at $5300, was given away by the government to over 1000 persons during the calendar year 1922, according to District Forester P. G. Redington.

This free timber was furnished to bona fide settlers, miners, residents and prospectors, for firewood, fencing, building, mining, prospecting, and other domestic uses. The material consisted largely of dead, disease and insect-infested timber and small trees removed in thinning, which have little commercial value. The removal of these classes of material is of benefit to the forest, since dead timber creates a considerable fire hazard, and the timber removed in thinning makes it possible for the remaining trees to make a more rapid growth.

In addition to timber removed from the national forests under "free use" over two million feet, with a value of $1,360, was sold during the year to farmers and settlers for use on homesteads or farms, at the rate of 75c per thousand feet, or 25c per cord. This material was disposed of under authority given by a federal statute which provides for the disposal of timber to settlers and farmers at a price which covers only the cost of administering the sales.

GLENANGELUS IS NEW NAME FOR TRACT

Eight Suggest the Same
Name and Divide
Prize Money

"Glenangelus" is the name selected for the tract that was opened Sunday by Vern S. Stires, the office of whose subdivision is at the intersection of San Fernando road and Woodwin ave. Eight contestants selected the same name and the $100 that was offered for the name has been divided into eight parts, $12.50 each, one to go to each of the lucky guessers.

The eight people who suggested the winning name are as follows: Mildred Klapp, J. A. McCarlier, Ruth Jekel, A. H. Kuhlman, Eva Smith, Ives Todd, William Mercer and Nellie Lewis.

The opening of the Glenangelus tract was marked by a great deal of enthusiasm by the several hundred people who attended. The ideal location of the land, the wonderful view obtained from every lot in the tract, the prospects of wonderful improvements being installed in the near future, the unusually low prices at which the lots are being sold, the high class restrictions—everything went to create real enthusiasm on the part of prospective buyers. Quite a number of the lots were picked out during the day.

The prices of the lots in this tract range from $850 to $2000, and there are 110 lots in the tract. The business lots along Goodwin are being sold at $50 per front foot, which probably is the lowest price for which business lots anywhere in this section may be purchased.

Another contest is being put on by the owner of this tract. In this contest a cabinet photograph will be given to the person holding the lucky number. Numbers will be given to everyone calling at the tract. The drawing will be held either next Sunday or the Sunday following, the exact date to be announced within a day or so.

Everything in the way of improvements are being put in this tract. These include graded and improved streets, curbs, sidewalks, electricity, water, gas—in fact, everything that should naturally go with a strictly up-to-date subdivision. Everything is being done that would in any way add to the attractiveness of the subdivision.

Truths in Epigram

There is no darkness but ignorance. — Shakespeare.

Our wanton accidents take root, and grow to vaunt themselves God's laws. — Kingsley.

The whole life of man is but a point of time. — Plutarch.

Death is an equal doom to good and bad, the common inn of rest. — Spenser.

THE TWO VIEWS

Responsible correspondents representing papers that seek to give facts, send word that Europe is veering towards the policy of negotiation. In other words, there is a tendency to abandon the absolute demand, or to back such demand by force of arms. Perhaps an era of reason is about to dawn. Negotiations are likely to lead to compromise, and compromise to result in peace, if not in sincere amity. This plan would be indicative of the return of sanity.

On the other hand, there is an effort to create the impression that Europe awaits the coming of spring to launch a terrific war. Russia is to be an important factor in this outbreak. Probably the danger is being magnified. Doubtless Russia would be glad to precipitate upon the continent generally the ruin it has experienced for a series of years, reducing all peoples to its level of wretchedness. The intrinsic meanness of the soviet attitude towards the world shows that this would be a natural exhibition of its temper. But Russia considered as a nation is beggared and starving. Its inhabitants, outside of official circles where looting is practised, have been kept alive by the charity of despised civilization. Therefore the rumor that it is buying arms and munitions, with intent to sweep across Europe has all the aspects of a grim jest. Certainly it would be glad to do this. The army, if imagined as sent, suggests little more than a huge breadline, with none to proffer a loaf, and no soup-kitchens by the way.

However, if the improbable, that seems impossible now, should eventuate, and Europe become a battlefield, it is difficult to see that its governments could survive, its society remain coherent, its culture escape extermination. A general war would be likely to send all Europe crashing down to a condition lower than that of barbarism. When civilization deliberately elects suicide, there is no human power potent to intervene.

VARIETIES OF WAVES

There has been so much discussion of the crime wave that it is interesting to note that there now is a wave of reform. It is said to have hit Chicago. There is no report that the place is inundated, and yet a wave sufficient to wash some of the stain of the underworld from the municipal surface, would have distinct value. Probably there is no other city more in need of cleansing. There is none that would not be improved by a moral bath.

So many have been the violations of laws throughout the land that sometimes it has seemed that the "wave" was a misnomer. What really was indicated was a high tide of crime that through some freak of circumstance had become permanent. If Chicago is capable of achieving betterment, then there is hope for all.

It would not be fair to criticize Chicago in any "holier than thou" spirit, for while conditions there are very bad, the city in which conditions are very good fails to come to mind. The centers of population in this part of the country, drawing to themselves all sorts of desirable tourists, necessarily have drawn the other type, too. That there has been an influx of raw prison material there is abundant evidence. However, police forces are being enlarged, the sheriffs given additional men, and the courts spurred to dealing quickly and not too gently with the guilty.

In the graceful accomplishment of discouraging crime, it would be pleasing to observe Chicago succeeding, and every other city following the example.

CONCERNING VINDICATION

In 1918 professors of the University of Wisconsin to the number of 500 signed a round robin condemning the war stand of La Follette. Wisconsin after these years has gathered a legislature of such complexion as to be capable of passing a resolution condemning the professors. This has been done. The action is termed a "vindication."

The course of the legislature was not a vindication. It was an expression of belief that a United States senator was right when in a perilous time he upheld the cause of Germany against that of his own country. That course caused La Follette to be shunned and despised. The reaction to it kept him for a long time silent. He could have found no listeners. Moreover, the ability of the Wisconsin legislature to vindicate anybody or anything is doubted. It seems gravely in need of such procedure on its own behalf.

That the professors were on any ground entitled to rebuke, rested upon a flimsy technicality. As American citizens they had a right to utter their opinion, to place it on record. As attaches of a state institution it is possible they were under official restriction that they chose to disregard. On this they might have been subject to censure. Such censure could in no way be construed as an indication of any form of guilt that a patriotic citizen would not have been glad to endorse and to share.

As the years go by it is well that old bitterness be forgotten. Nevertheless, the leopard cannot change his spots, nor is there any conviction carried by the statement that he never had spots.

It is a little late for successful revival of the report that the son of the former czar is living. The precise manner in which the royal Russian family was murdered, although ostensibly portrayed more than once, has remained a secret. Some secrets may be kept. But a live boy hardly could have been concealed all these years.

A man seldom over-rates himself when the tax collector comes around.

BEHIND A SMOKE SCREEN

President Harding believes that the United States should endorse and participate in the International Court. Millions of his countrymen recognize the wisdom of his judgment. There are some who withhold such recognition, and, lighting the fires of oratory, they raise a smoke screen designed to hide their own purpose, and to conceal the truth. It happens that these objectors are the noisy faction of public life. Their spokesmen are politicians who live by the activity of their tongues. Where they lack argument they draw upon a boundless store of invective. Partisan rancor they disguise with verbal trimmings, and present to view as patriotism stirred to its depths.

There is no reason for the public to be misled by the clamor. It is "old stuff." When it was used against the League of Nations it appeared to be effective. It so appeared only because there were other issues that seemed to dwarf the importance of what really was the main question. When the people voted against the league there is reason to believe that the course was merely incidental to their voting for a change in administration.

The real question is as to the status of the United States, richest and most powerful of nations. Has it a duty to the world or has it not? Should it observe the rest of the world involved in turmoil without some attempt to assuage the trouble? Has it the moral right to remain aloof? Can it reasonably expect to be in the world and not of it?

By an agreement among nations an International Court could be equipped with as much power relatively as any court now possesses. That is to say, it could have complete jurisdiction, its authority not limited by geographical divisions. In this fashion might be found the way to permanent and comprehensive peace. History has proved that in the absence of such sweeping compact, there is no chance for universal and lasting tranquility. In advocacy of the court, the President suggests nothing more than that this country take up its share of the world's duties. Against it is cited the belief that what Europe may do is not the concern of anybody on this side of the Atlantic. No single phrase well could be more selfish, heartless or illogical.

The publication of the journal of Leo Tolstoy reveals that the later years of the great Russian had been pathetically unhappy. The particular revelation of the journal is when it tells of the treatment he received from his wife, whom he feared, and strove not to hate. If the memoirs are authentic, the truth of them is enough to crush the person they condemn.

Cold sermons have spoiled many a warm Sunday dinner.

CHANCES OF OLD AGE

If man wants to eliminate the nuisance of old age he might do better than study the ways of the lowliest forms of animal life, according to Dr. Raymond Pearl and Carl Doering of Johns Hopkins University, who have recently published a comparative life table for man, flies, and a certain sort of minute animalcule known as Proales Decipiens which never suffers from senility.

This is not just because this microscopic animal never lives to be more than two weeks old, for old age is something irrespective of the length of life. A man is old at 70 years, a cat at 10, a rat at 3, and a Proales at 10 days. The study was taken to see how many individuals of 1000 of each species, at the age in youth when the death rate was the lowest, survived to extreme old age and the rate at which they died along the way.

The theoretically possible and perhaps perfect arrangements would be one in which all the individuals would live to a healthy and vigorous old age and then when they had come to the end of the journey all die simultaneously, so that a man might expect to live to the age, for example, of 120 years with good health and vigor and then like the wonderful "one hoss shay" of Oliver Wendell Holmes' poem, just go to pieces all at once and pass off without long illness or suffering.

This achievement seems to have been approached more closely by the animalcules than by man, according to the paper of Dr. Pearl recently published. For example, of an average lot of 1000 male Proales starting at 12 years of age, when they have lived just half of the average span of life there will be 68.5 per cent surviving. Of a similar crowd of 1000 Proales who have also lived half of their span of life there will be 92 per cent surviving. In other words, the animalcules have a lower death rate in youth and middle life and a higher one in old age than has man. A youthful Proales has a much better chance to live to be old than has the average American boy.

Whether this is due to a more uniform environment on the part of the minute animalcules or to the fact of more uniform heredity due to monogamy and reproduction or parthenogenesis is a problem for scientists. But when it comes to avoiding old age, Proales has the better of it over man.

QUERIES

(Find the error in this article)

Can One Demand if One Commands?

Mrs. D. of Saint Charles, S. C., asks which word one should "use in the following sentence: 'He could command (demand) a better salary.' Either word might be used, but, in connection with could, there would be a difference in meaning. He could command would imply that he has ability to be worth more, but that he has not measured up to his opportunity. He could demand asserts that he has done so well in his work that he is worth a raise in salary, and could ask for it with insistence, but he doesn't. So, you see, one can demand, if one commands.

More and More Familiarity

Mr. John Dilling of New York says he is "employed by a woman" and wants to know "if it is proper to say 'My Dear Miss'; 'Dear Miss'; or 'Miss'." When a man speaks to a woman employer he should say, "Miss Blank." If he is writing her, "Dear Miss Blank" is a more familiar salutation than "My dear Miss Blank."

Where Goes "Immediately"?

Thad. Dobbins of Repress, Calif., thinks that immediately should be placed after hand in the following sentence: "Employees are requested immediately to hand their deposit books to the agent." Mr. Dobbins asks, "Were they requested immediately, or requested to hand over their books immediately?" Usage would seem to place immediately before to hand, although there is reason in Mr. Dobbins' contention.

The Error

Wrong: . . . he is worth a raise in salary . . .

Right: . . . he is worth a rise (or an increase) in salary . . .

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

Remember that you are not what you say. Not what you claim to be. Not what you pretend. Not what you wish you were.

You are what you do.

A man is not judged by what he says. Words are many and their meaning often little. A man is not judged by what he pretends to be. Many a hypocrite has gone to the penitentiary. A man is finally judged by what he does. That is the test of his fidelity.

There are many brag-garts. They make use of words. They make elaborate pretense. They are noisy and glib and pretentious. But their performances are nil. So when we come to judge them we cast everything aside but deeds.

You tell the Boss you are the best workman who ever handled a machine.

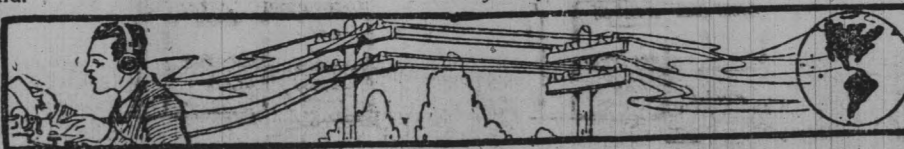

And the Boss looks you over and waits for you to make good.

And at the end of the day he looks over the work you have done.

And then he passes judgment upon your workmanship.

He does not judge you by how you looked.

He does not judge you by what you have said.

Songs of the Poets

The Sky—By Elizabeth Madox Roberts

I saw a shadow on the ground,
And heard a bluejay going by;
A shadow went across the ground,
And I looked up and saw the sky.

It hung up on the poplar tree,
But while I looked it did not stay;
It gave a tiny sort of jerk
And moved a little bit away.

And farther on and farther on
It moved and never seemed to stop.
I think it must be tied with chains
And something pulls it from the top.

It never has come down again,
And every time I look to see,
The sky is always slipping back
And getting far away from me.

THE SENATOR, THE CITIZEN AND THE GUN

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

Senator Capper is off the reservation again.

This time he is gunning for the gunners. There are too many casual killings in this country, too much manslaughter and too many assaults with deadly weapons, thinks the senator.

And Heaven knows he is thinking straight; and so to stem the tide of bloodletting Senator Capper has introduced a bill into congress designed to deprive the hasty and youthful of lethal weapons.

One of the best features of the bill is that which makes it illegal for anyone to sell, lend or give a weapon to a minor. Flourishing of weapons is largely a failing of the arrogance of youth and not a few deaths have resulted from such "showing off."

Dealers in fire arms must, under this bill, be licensed and can only sell to persons bearing a police permit. All sales must be recorded and filed with the police. Moreover, no one can purchase a pistol the same day that he applies for it. What a splendid safeguard this is for quick tempered and impulsive folk who shoot, if they do shoot, in the heat of passion.

If a chap in a rage can't buy a pistol today the chances are that he will not buy it at all. The night will cool his passion and the morning sun will clarify his vision.

There are other provisions in the bill, all good. Unfortunately, however, if it becomes law it will be ineffective in the District of Columbia only. But even so it may become a model that other states will follow with the idea of curbing the tendency to kill which seems to be sweeping over this country like a forest fire.

However, this feature of the situation strikes me with stunning force!

The law-abiding citizen will refrain from carrying fire arms; the crook will not. What will be the result? Will not crooks, holdup men and divers and sundry varieties of road agents, knowing that people are unarmed, do a land office business in robbery? Of course, law-abiding people can, if necessary, secure permits to arm; and this they will have to do, if the Capper bill becomes law; for it specifically states that the possession of a revolver or pistol without permit shall be prima facie evidence of intention to commit a crime.

Isn't that going a bit strong, especially when so many people in cities have to return home at all sorts of hours and frequently through dangerous neighborhoods?

The bill is lauded in the press as a model and we all hope it will achieve the measure of public safety which it is designed to secure; but, unless the average citizen is protected more effectively than he is now from the lawless citizens, it would appear that to totally disarm him is to invite him to be assaulted.

Anyhow, a section of gas pipe, a baseball bat or even a quart bottle filled with water will kill a man quite as quickly and quite as dead as a pistol.

By all means require permits for the sale of fire arms, register the sales with the police, allow a day to elapse between application and possession and keep minors from possessing guns. But do not, oh wise senator, render the law-abiding wholly defenseless.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

Often there is a person of mental poise in all lines but one, but who concerning that one is an idiot or insane.

This may not be true of A. B. See of New York, but suspicions arise. The man is a successful manufacturer, and yet when he opens his mouth to speak, he drools, and when he takes pen in hand, he raves.

It was See who stated not long ago, as abundantly quoted at the time, that he would be glad to have all colleges for women burned to the ground, and the students put at hard manual labor. When a man expresses himself in such fashion, what is he? Mail restrictions forbid that the explicit opinion he incites be set down here.

A brief quotation from a recent screed of See's gives an idea of the depths of his ignorance:

"Women never go into politics from a lofty patriotic motive, but either to get their names in the newspapers, or to vent their spleen against someone."

He sets forth as a sad sight women "hobbling on high-heeled shoes up to legislative bodies, dressed so as to show their bosoms and their bunions, while they clamor for the passage of laws they have not the mental capacity even to faintly comprehend."

The ladies understand See. They do not retort with acrimony. They offer to pay the bill of an alienist to examine him; which seems not only fair but generous.

See makes elevators as a business. As a diversion he makes an ass of himself.

One annoying feature of law is the "Tweedledum Tweedledee" business that it tolerates. A law may say a thing in one way, saying it with precision. Then a construction is placed upon it that gives it, theoretically, another meaning. Next the wording is changed, and having been changed, conveys the original meaning with the former exactitude.

An illustration of this particular foolishness is to be seen in the attempt to pick a flaw in the statute naming the legal speed of vehicles. The law says "at the rate of speed of" so many miles an hour. Very well. The phrasing is redundant, but not to be misunderstood. It conveys in a rather awkward fashion the information sought to be conveyed.

Now comes the allegation not merely that the statute should read "at the speed of," but that convictions under the law as at present worded, may not be legal.

The style is bettered, but the sense is not changed, despite hair-splitting assertions to the contrary.

Under the picture of four hats is the statement that they cost $2500.

If this is true somebody got badly stung.

During February, containing twenty-eight days, thirty-five persons were killed in Los Angeles by traffic crashes.

When highway fatalities average more than one a day something ought to be done about it. March 9 the total was sixty-nine for the year thus far.

Semenoff is said to be planning a counter revolt against the bolsheviks. It is to be hoped that when the Russians get ready to free themselves, they can find another leader.

The record of this man for brutality hardly could be matched outside of Turkey.

Implacable inventive genius has at last struck a blow that will hurt. It is said to have devised an automatic appliance that will serve soft drinks at the fountain, abolishing the clerk, who is a thing of beauty if ever there was one.

Perhaps the innovation will not succeed. Many patrons seem to take a soft drink because of the social touch involved by present methods.

Western cities are growing so fast that they can't make people back east believe it. Outsiders say that the figures are propaganda, and resume shoveling the snow off their walks.

Los Angeles asks for 175 more letter carriers, and gets but grudgingly, only seventeen, although the quota requested was necessary. Smaller towns in the community have, proportionately, similar experiences.

Two decided to die together. He had a wife. She had a husband. These material facts interfered with their happiness. So they decided to die in concert; left notes, and all that sort of thing. Nosey neighbors smelled gas. Police brought a palmator, and in most prosaic fashion pumped the pair back to a world of woe.

Hardly had the man got a good breath before he was arrested on a charge of embezzlement. So ended romance.

There is a woman on trial in Chicago for poisoning her husband. He was No. 2, the two before having gone before, supposedly owing to the toxic leaning of the wife.

A witness swears that as No. 3 lay dying the wife showed him a hat that she had purchased for the funeral of which he was about to be the center. Also that she informed him of a coffin, purchased for his personal use at the bargain rate of $30. Then she jerked the pillow from under his head, thinking thus to hasten his exit.

The creature thus portrayed is not human. The suggestion that what she is could be ascertained by means of an autopsy, is made for what it is worth.

Under investigation as to certain of his acts, an official of the Anti-Sabon league denies that he ever said he had bribed newspaper men. He said that no newspapermen ever had betrayed his employer, or tried to "put anything across" on a paper upholding a policy that personally the employee opposed.

Doubtless he tells the truth. Men working on a paper are loyal to it. When they can't be, they quit without waiting to be fired. Were they to betray the paper they could not remain in the profession, but would be outcasts.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

A year ago, I made a long trip through a more or less unsettled country. With me went a nice young man. His character was graded as A-1 plus, his temper was either good or else he was afraid of me, and he seemed strong as a Norwegian bull. "I grew to hate that boy as I have seldom hated any one."

"My crimony," I used to say to him, "don't you ever stop eating?" He never let his jaws stop. At table he ate all that he could get, which was all there was on the table the others present did not get. Between times he drank tea and coffee and ate cakes and sandwiches and candy. At night he laid in provender against an unexpected famine during the dark hours. Yet he was as thin as a snake and his eyes popped out like buttons on a fur coat.

Maybe I was unduly snooty about it, but what seemed sheer pig'shness to me turned me against that young man two full turns. His breath was forever laden with the aroma of cream cheese, almonds, molasses candy, beaten biscuit, and ham gravy. When I was forced to ride with him I barked like a dog. I was just as sweet and pleasant a companion as a king cobra.

It wasn't the poor kid's fault at all. When we got back to civilization he had his teeth examined. The dental surgeon did not pull them—that fad for pulling teeth had passed—but he did fix them up properly. The infection at the roots of the teeth had soaked through the poor kid's entire system. That man's eating which had possessed him was not true hunger at all. It was just a sort of a diseased itch, as I gather from the doctor. Not much of the food did him any good, anyhow. He was reeking with poison.

Now he eats like a white man, at regular hours, and of regular foods. If he had gone on his former course he would have been nibbling clay. Yet his teeth had never bothered him. He had had no toothache. He did not know there was anything wrong.

When a man makes an ostentatious display of his wealth he advertises himself as an easy mark.

'NO WORK' SIGN IS OUT FOR DEMPSEY

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Mar. 13.—In the three years that have passed since he won the heavyweight championship, Jack Dempsey has engaged in only three bouts.

He went through three rounds with Billy Miske, twelve rounds with Bill Brennan and four rounds with Carpenter.

It will be four years in July since Dempsey won the title at Toledo and in that time he has had the benefit of only nineteen rounds of actual fighting.

No champions in other branches of sport could remain at the top with such scattered opportunities for practice. Babe Ruth was hopelessly handicapped last year by an enforced absence of six weeks. Bill Tilden would have a terrific time to maintain his form if he could play tennis only once a year and Walter Hagen would put his game on the rocks under the same circumstances.

Whether the enforced abstinence from ring work has hurt Dempsey remains to be seen and it may be a long while before a chance comes to find out. Other fighters in the past have laid off for three years without getting off edge. It all depends on how the time was spent outside the ring.

It might be said that the long lay off didn't do Dempsey any good, but it doesn't necessarily follow that it resulted harmfully.

When he was working out in Madison Garden on his recent visit to New York, the champion looked as good and perhaps better than he ever did. It is hard to get a foundation for accurate judgment in a gym, but it was strikingly apparent that Dempsey was faster on his feet, more graceful in his boxing and more accurate in his punching than he ever was before.

It is Dempsey's own business what he does with his time, but he must be taking good care of himself, because he always appears to be in such good condition. He boxed three rounds recently in the garden with Jamaica Kid, his old sparring partner from Toledo. They went like bantamweights for three full rounds and when they finished, Dempsey was hardly breathing fast. He must be in shape regardless of the rumors that are passed around about him from time to time.

SEED AND HARVEST

A tiny little drop of rain
Was just about to fall,
And said: "My efforts will be vain,
I am so very small."
But when his comrade raindrops fell,
In countless hosts and vast,
They soaked the earth and field and dell
And flowers bloomed at last.

A tiny little blade of grass
Peeped upward at the Spring,
And said: "I am so small, Alas!
What beauty can I bring?"
Then rose his comrades up with zest,
In green and countless blades,
And all the hills were gaily dressed,
And all the fields and glades.

A tiny bud upon a tree
Burst into leaf at morn,
And said: "I am so small, ah me,
As well I were not born."
But countless buds burst wide that day
And in that bursting made
A wealth of leaves beneath which lay
A cool and spreading shade.

A little soul looked on the earth
And heard clear duty's call,
And said: "I am of little worth,
I am so weak and small!"
But comrade souls rose up as one
To give the best they had,
And glorious deeds for right were done
And all the world was glad.

that result from stage boxing and exhibition work. An admitted evil is the habit it sometimes develops of pulling punches. But in Dempsey's case, daily boxing on the stage for two years off and on has given him a finished style and produced a general polish. It apparently has not hurt him.

Since he cannot find an opponent suited to the requirements of the New York boxing commission, Dempsey cannot engage in the actual pursuit of his profession and since he cannot fight, it stands to reason that boxing on the stage will do more to keep him on edge than chopping trees or wearing grooves in mountain sides with his feet.

LAST DAY FOR FILING TAX INCOME

March 15 Must See Income Statement in Hands of Government

Your income tax return is due Thursday the fifteenth. Collector Goodcell states there are only two more days within which to file your income tax return for the calendar year 1922. It is estimated that the ten southern counties of California will show a considerable increase over the calendar year of 1921, and the collector is anxious for this district to be the leading district, in percentage of increase. He requests each individual to thoroughly analyze the amount of income received, to determine whether or not he is liable for a return.

Every single person with a net income of $1,000 or more must file, regardless of the personal exemption to which they may be entitled; and every person whose gross income is $5,000 or more must file, regardless of the amount of net income. The collector states that this is a new provision of the 1921 act, and he desires every resident of southern California to become thoroughly acquainted with these provisions, as during the last year many penalties were imposed upon tax payers for failure to file a return, they believing that inasmuch as they had no tax to pay they were not liable for a return.

The collector's office is open from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., and all returns must be in his office, and not in the mail, on or before midnight of March 15. The mere mailing of your return on the 15th will not be sufficient, as if the same is received in the office of the collector on the 16th, you will be subject to penalties.

Judge Goodcell further states that he has additional assistance from the revenue agent's department of the internal revenue service to assist you in preparation of the returns. Many comments have been made upon the rapidity with which the public has been handled during the past two months.

orders, societies and clubs seem to have the impression that they do not have to collect tax on tickets of admission sold by them, either because they are exempt from tax on dues, or because they are non-profit making organizations," said Collector Goodcell. "Neither, the fact that such societies may be exempt from tax on dues, nor the fact that no profit is made or sought has any bearing whatever on their liability to collect tax on admissions," he continued. "It is the purchaser of admission who must pay the tax and it is the duty of any person or organization selling admissions to collect the tax in addition to the admission price. Failure to collect the tax or failure to state the amount of tax on each ticket incurs a penalty of $1,000."

There are certain organizations which are entitled to exemption from collection of tax on admissions, the proceeds of which inure exclusively to their benefit, but unless such organizations secure an exemption certificate before selling any tickets, they must collect tax regardless of their right to claim exemption. The only organizations which are specifically exempt are American Legion posts and the Ladies' Auxiliary thereof. When either of these organizations sells admissions, the proceeds of which inure to their benefit, it is not required that they file an exemption application. But if some other organization or person gives an entertainment for the benefit of an American Legion post or Ladies' Auxiliary, both the sponsor and the beneficiary must join in an application for exemption before selling tickets without collecting tax. Collector Goodcell urges all persons or organizations, before selling any admission tickets, to consult his office as to their liability as he has no option under the law except to assess penalties when the law is not complied with in every requirement.

"The tax on admissions is steadily growing in this district," said Collector Goodcell, "and it shows an increasingly healthy financial condition when the people have so much money to spend on recreation. It is my desire to maintain this splendid showing by collecting tax—not penalties."

UMBRELLAS FOR TRAVELLING

Umbrellas when not in use are generally in the way, particularly when travelling. A very original folding umbrella fitted into a crease or black leather case can be tucked away in an inconspicuous corner.
